DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 50 and 55-58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Regarding claim 50, it is unclear how the rotatable shaft 40 can move “towards the front portion of the miter base and towards the rear portion”. As shown in Figs. 1, 2, 4 and 6, the gears 50 and 30 are fixedly attached to both ends of the shaft 40. Thus, the shaft 40 cannot be pulled toward the front portion of the miter saw.

Assuming that the tolerance between the shaft 40 and the gears 50 and 30 are great enough for the sliding motion of the shaft as asserted by the Applicant, then how can the shaft 40 can translate the rotational angle of the bevel housing in the rear portion to the bevel indication in the front portion?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3724

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 35 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brazell et al. (US Pub. 2003/0110914 A1), hereinafter Brazell, in view of Cantlin (4,805,505).

Brazell teaches a miter saw comprising a base 128, a bevel housing support 146, a saw assembly, a front bevel lock mechanism 122 having a grippable portion and a cylindrical shaft 130 extending from the bevel housing support to the grippable portion.

See Fig. 7.

Brazell fails to teach the grippable portion having a cam surface. Cantlin teaches providing a grippable portion 31 a cam surface 42 to provide extra clamping force.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide a cam surface as taught by Cantlin to the grippable portion of Brazell to provide additional clamp force to better hold the saw assembly at a desired angle.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 35 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
